All learning
 takes place in the classroom?

Street smart? Hardly. However, the hard work associated with athletics can teach numerous lessons not found in the classroom. Sports can be a good workout—not only physically, but mentally as well.

Hidden wisdom—Unaware of the benefits of good social skills, knowledge comes in mysterious ways to these students. This is the one form of learning that the state has not managed to mandate as of yet. More theater classes, anyone?

I think
NOT!
