

A genius?— Everyone thinks Andy Schoonover's brain is filled with facts and he knows everything, but unbeknownst to many, if you stick the tip of your tongue out, all the information will come to you. For Andy, this pop quiz was no-brainer.

Think, think, think— With only two weeks left until her paper is due, Melissa Yerxa takes shelter in the quiet atmosphere of the library to study her subject material. This is her big chance to make her polished writing style known to all.

Ready, aim, fire— Looking for the open man, goalie Marc Lehnert throws the ball out onto the field, hoping that it will help his team score another goal. Luckily, the varsity team had Marc to guard the goal while they did the footwork to get another win under their belt.

Kicking up a storm— The excitement glows on the faces of mother-to-be, Christy Gordon, and friend, Julia Haas, as they feel the intense kicking from "little baby Katlyn." Christy is expecting the child on February 5th.

Cracking the whip— Always on top of things, Dana Graham skillfully directs the computer clowns. Dana is always willing to lend a helping hand in yearbook class, even though, as Business Editor, she usually has her own hands full.
