17 across—Searching for a six letter word that begins with Q and contains X and Z, Lori Covell tries to complete the State Journal's crossword puzzle. Be careful, because these things sure can get addictive!

You won't believe this...—Working in the library is a great time to look up information, especially when searching for college material. Kristi Champagne can't believe her eyes as the computer tells her that her first college choice is going to cost more than she thought. Nikki Carpenter sits by calmly, knowing that there is financial aid available.

Cuticle problems—Sitting in F.S.T., Angela Verderese contemplates the answer to number 12 on the board. She realizes that trying to figure out an answer for a half hour is ridiculous. Erin Long quits right away and decides to give herself a manicure instead.
