Interview Day a Success

On Tuesday, February 8, we participated in the school's 6th annual interview day. It gave us an opportunity to have a mock interview with those who are involved in hiring within their own business.

Most of our interviews lasted about 30 minutes. Some interviews were as short as 15 minutes, while others exceeded 45 minutes. Most of us felt extremely nervous.

Lisa Thelen thought it was unnecessary when her interviewer asked to see her hands before the interview even began. Bruce Platte commented, "It was helpful for the future." and Chad Huhn added with a laugh, "It was a great and rewarding experience."

Debbie Evans is being interviewed by Randy Walter. Like all of us, she was prepared for the interview process in government class. We had an instructor from Davenport College come into class and advise us on resume's, appropriate dress and other interview tips.
