

VIRGINIA ANDERSEN

A new-comer to Rodney B., having previously attended DeWitt high. "Ginny" likes dancing and plans to be a secretary some day.

BURTON ARTZ

A late transfer to Rodney B.—"Burt" has become well known in a short time—part of the "bass section backbone" of the chorus—"Who said that?"—his tastes vary.

VIRGINIA BAILEY

"Ginny"—"works best at Knight"—National Honor Society—a Latin clubber—an old standby of the music department, at Christmas, in Spring, and for marching band—a junior play cast member and an Annual staffer—"Hey, Red."

BARBARA BALLANTINE

"Bobby" has so many nick-names that it would be fruitless to record them—remembered for her Joan Davis-like comedy in musicals—both junior and senior play casts—soph-junior student council representative—J-Hop committee—associate editor of ye Annual—"I'm not peculiar."

MARGUERITE BALLINGER

Marguerite is a commercial department follower—very seldom seen without Delores Baumgartner—has worked hard on the senior play committee.

JOYCE BANCROFT

"I'd much rather be a farmer"—a soprano song-bird of the senior class—with four years of chorus, musicals, and Christmas programs to her credit—also a member of J-Hop committee—senior play cast—a glance at her third finger left hand foretells her future.

PLAYERS

DELORES BAUMGARTNER

Works in the commercial department—a charming personality goes with the silent type like Delores—another member of the hard-working senior play committee.
