

Deborah Patrick
David Patterson
Carla Perez
Ryan Phinney

Melinda Pierce
Kristin Pontius
Kenneth Potts
Jason Pung

MAKING Transitions

SENIOR YEAR PROGRESSES TOWARD ADULTHOOD

Some people say that the transition from being a Junior to a Senior is a big step, but the transition from being a Senior to the "real world" is an even greater step.

Everyone will deal with these steps differently and they must prepare themselves now for the future ahead.

"I'm joining the Navy and right now I try not to think about it, but when I tell myself that I made the right decision," said Senior Cary Feldbusch.

Others may choose college to prepare themselves.

"I plan to go to Hope College and major in psychology. I've been trying to keep well read on developments in this area. I'm going to be dependent on my parents through most of college, so I won't really have to worry about expenses until after I graduate," said Senior Jacquelyn Bullard.

Some students have chosen to go right into the working class.

"I'm working next year but I'm already used to it. I've been working since my Freshman year," said Senior Jeff Baert.

Stepping into the "real world" will be very different so hopefully you'll choose what's good for you to start off right.

Sara Beers

During the Senior's last homecoming assembly the Senior section joined in on the lip sinking contest in YMCA.

Photo by Andrew Jenkins

During the homecoming assembly, Luke Adams helps in a tug-of-war contest. After graduation he plans to go to San Diego California State.

Photo by Andrew Jenkins