

Jennifer Catlin
 Brian Chadwick
 Cari Cole
 Kelly Cornell

Shelly Cornell
 Tammy Correll
 Tiffany Cowdrey
 Jessica Crabill

GRAD Gifts

WISH TASTES BUT REALITY MORE PRACTICAL

Sure, a brand new '94 Ford Mustang, or an all expense paid trip to Europe would be nice. Come on now. Who really expects graduation gifts like this? You will probably get luggage or something practical like that for college," said Senior Carla Perez. Most know what to anticipate for a gift, but everyone has that perfect one in mind. "A new truck," would be great for Senior Jeremy Nobach. "I really want a new jeep and a jeep would be the ultimate!" said Senior Erica Smith.

To some it doesn't really matter what or how big the present might be.

"I think I'd like small gifts. It's the thought that counts - Really," said Senior Jessica Crabill.

Worst gifts are easier to name.

"An ironing board would be really depressing for me," said Senior Laura Green.

"A sewing machine," would be awful for Senior Andrea Amsterburg.

Although money is always a welcome gift, most grads do appreciate those specially selected tokens.

Karen Chvojka

Senior Dan Simon and Jamie Martinez take some time out to go gift shopping at Haddad's for cards and gifts for graduation. Photo by Jenkins

Senior Leann Waddington says that her perfect gift would be "a brand new car" so she won't have to ask for rides when she goes to college. Photo by Hicks