

Amy Root

Bethany Rossow

Bradley Rozen

Eric Russell

Michael Ruthruff

Matthew Ryals

Jared Ryan

Shannon Sanborn

Some Senior travel, others just stay home and work

Spring Break is looked at by many as the end. It marks the beginning of the last nine weeks of school. But for Seniors it is the end. Only one quarter of high school is left and this is the last big break of school.

Seniors, during their last Spring Break of high school will be traveling all over. A few will be going south with the orchestra.

"We will be performing at Epcot Center, then go snorkeling at Key Largo, and see the Olympic site in Atlanta," says Robin Parkhouse. Many will be flying to Europe for the Spain Trip.

"Third and fourth year spanish students are going to understand how people in Spain live, see their culture and have fun," says Jackie Ley. Seniors are traveling this year mainly to just have fun.

Even though there are a lot of Seniors traveling, just as many will be staying at home, working and relaxing.

"During spring break I will be going to work, spending time with my family, and shopping," says Kelly Halstead. It may not be a huge trip, but as long as you are not in school it's fun.

You may be flying to another country, traveling to warm beaches, or just staying home to relax. But remember these last days, because high school may not last forever, but your memories will.

by Ben Fedewa

STAYING HOME

Trent Powers will be spending his Spring

Break sticking around the house working on his Chevy Camaro, and going to work at Little Ceaser's

photo by Mrs. McEnaney

PERFORMING IN FLORIDA

Lydia Winsor is going with the rest of the orchestra to perform at Epcot Center. They will be traveling by bus and staying in a hotel in Orlando.

photo by Linda's Studio

