Okay . . .

so now what?

Michigan or Michigan State? College choice is just one of the many dilemmas faced by graduating Seniors everywhere. "I hope to go to State, to meet women, party, and in my spare time, get educated," said Senior "Bear" Mitchell. "When I leave for the University of Michigan, I want to meet new people and expand my horizons," said Junior Emily Bertram. While some are deciding where to attend college, other students are pondering what to major in. "Definitely Law Enforcement. My dad is a Police Officer and I enjoy what he does," said Junior Marco Jones. Most graduating Seniors insist on getting as far away from home as possible. "Going to an out of state college has always been a dream to me," said Senior Rob Barrera. "When I graduate I don't care where I go to college, just as long as it's out of this state," said Senior Kellee McNamara. It seems that many students have plans of attending college. The big decision remains..... Where?
