

"I have been involved in drafting all through high school. I started my freshman year and worked hard to get where I am now. The past two years I have taken a two hour block classes. The atmosphere in drafting is great. It really feels like a work place," said Senior Brad Steffen.

Photo by Kim Cox

Accomplishing

the unexpected

It has been a long road since that first day of school to the last. Throughout this journey there have been some setbacks, but for the most part everyone has at least one accomplishment that made them feel like more than just a face in the crowd.

"Being one of the Kiwanis students of the month, from the Vocational/Industrial Education department would have been one of the few accomplishments I could put in the yearbook," said Senior Brad Steffen.

"I moved here about three years ago and knew no one. Now I have managed to get my name well known," said Senior Cory Johnson.

Some seniors feel that just achieving their current academic status is an accomplishment of its own.

"My greatest accomplishment is graduating," said Senior Nanisa VanDePerre.

"I felt a great sense of accomplishment when I was accepted to both GMI and WMU. Now the hard part is choosing which one would be the best choice for my career goal," said Senior Ryan Whitmore.

Kimberly Cox

Robert Marek
Jenea Markham
Emberly Martinez
Karen McDonald

Kellee McNamara
Adam Mead
Kristin Mercer
Casey Messer

